SITUATION

UNCHANGED

In Congressional Matters Even Though the Hildebrand Deli-gates Were Seated.

It is with regret that the delegates to the national convention did not file notice of contest before June 1, as required under the call for the convention. By this the national committee did not recognize a contest and the Hildebrand delegates F. M. Couden and Geo. W. McMurey were seated. The Scroggy delegates were H. C. Louden and J. R. Hicks. The case was decided on a technicality and not on its merits. A case very similar to the Sixth District was decided on the Wisconsin contest where the so-called "rumpers" were seated. There is little doubt but that the Scroggy delegates would have been seated had papers been filed in time. Should the case have been heard before the national committee and decided in favor of the Hildebrand delegates, it would have had no bearing whatever on the controversy between Judge Scroggy and Congressman Hildebrand, the board of elections having already declared the former the regular nominee. It is probable that Mr. Hildebrand will appeal to the new election board but we are told this can't be done. Mr. Hildebrand recognized the present board as arbitrator when he filed his affidavits and sent his legal representative before them to plead his cause.

CROP REPORT.

Mr. J. J. Dary, special agent of the United States Agricultural Department, who has been investigating the wheat and fruit crops in this section reports: "In Michigan the indications are for slightly over half an average crop, about 51 per cent; Ohio, 54 per cent with a steady improvement; Indiana, 57 per cent; Kentucky, 72 per cent, a great improvement; West Virginia, 67 per cent. Kentucky and West Virginia have more improvement in wheat prospect within the last 30 days than any of the states named. The fruit crop in the five states named is fair. West Virginia best of all."

KICKED BY A HORSE

Mr. John Fields, the liveryman, met with what might have been a fatal accident Tuesday, by being kicked by a horse. He was about the stable in the forenoon and upon entering the stall was kicked slightly by one of his horses but thought nothing of it. During the afternoon he entered the stall again, this time to receive more serious treatment. He was kicked some half dozen times about the legs and hips and badly was used. He did not get down, holding to the side of the stall. Had he gotten down it is probable he would have been fatally injured. Several persons were about the barn at the time and went to his rescue at his call. The horse has always been regarded as perfectly quiet and was never known to make a miss move.

OLD SOLDIER'S STORY.

Sonoma, Mich. June 18.—That even in actual warfare disease is more terrible than bullets is the experience of Delos Hutchins of this place. Mr. Hutchins as a Union soldier saw three years of service under Butler Barke in the Louisiana swamps, and as a result got crippled with rheumatism so that his hands and feet got all twisted out of shape and how he suffered only a Rheumatic will ever know.

For twenty-five years he was in misery, then one lucky day his druggist advised him to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Of the result Mr. Hutchins says: "The first two boxes did not help me much but I got two more and before I got them used up I was a great deal better. I kept on taking them and now my pains are all gone and I feel better than I have in years. I know Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure rheumatism."

PRETTY JUNE

WEDDING

Miss Fannie Grace Townsley and Rev. Wm. Wallace Iliffe United in Marriage.

A very pretty wedding solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Oglesbee, was that of Miss Fannie Grace Townsley and Rev. Wm. Wallace Iliffe. The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. David McKinney, D. D., of Cincinnati, assisted by Prof. W. R. McChesney, in the presence of ninety friends. The ribbon bearers were Misses Helen Oglesbee and Gladys Wildman. After the ceremony and congratulations refreshments were served.

The bride wore a gown of white Persian lawn and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations. Miss Dora Siegler presided at the piano. The decorations were pink and white, the flowers in the parlors were roses and smilax and those of the dining-room were sweet peas.

For a number of years the bride was a teacher in the town and township schools, and was one of our most popular young ladies. The groom is graduate of Cedarville College and of the Presbyterian Seminary at Philadelphia.

Rev. and Mrs. Iliffe left Wednesday evening for a brief wedding trip, but will return here before going to their future home in Duaneburg, N. Y., where the groom is the pastor of a thriving congregation. They expect to leave for the East the first of the week.

The happy couple were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents.

Among the out-of-town guests were the following: Misses Jessie Small, Mary Wright, Helen Eavey, Mae Wade and Messrs. Herman Eavey and Walter Ferguson, Xenia; Miss Rena Small, Springfield; Mrs. Wm. Hyatt, Urbana; Mr. and Mrs. Bates, Yellow Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jobe and Miss Carpenter, Selma.

A Thrifty Lad.
Merchant—Did you post my letter as I told you, John?
John—Yes, sir, but I had it weighed first, and as it was double weight I put another stamp on it.
Merchant—That's right, only I hope you didn't put the extra stamp on so that it would obliterate the address.

John—Indeed, I didn't, sir. I just stuck it on top of the other stamp, so as to save room.—Chums.

A Hint.
Mother—I can't have that young man staying here so late at night. You must give him a hint of some kind.
Daughter (in the evening)—I am very much afraid something will happen to you on the streets at night. You must be more careful of yourself and not be out so late. If anything should happen to you, I'd die!

They are engaged now.
In the reign of Margaret—1286-1292—the Scottish parliament passed an act saying that "every maiden of both high and low degree shall have liberty to speak to the man she likes. If he refuse to take her to be his wife, he shall be muled in the sum of £100 or less, according to his estate, except and always if he can make it appear that he is betrothed to another woman. Then he shall be free." This is the origin of the famous privilege given to women in leap year.

CALL A PASTOR.

A congregational meeting was held Tuesday by the members of the Reformed Presbyterian church at which time the Rev. Albert Barnes Henry, of Philadelphia, was extended a unanimous call. Rev. Henry has preached for this congregation several times and has made a good impression as is evidenced by the call.

He was born on what is now the R. F. Kerr farm three miles east of town, and with his parents moved to Kansas in his early boyhood. He was educated at Monmouth college, afterwards entering the Reformed Presbyterian Seminary in Philadelphia. For the past six or seven years he has preached as supply for the Second church of the same denomination in Philadelphia. It is not known whether the call will be accepted or not.

A PICNIC PARTY.

About twelve couples of young people from here drove over to the Neff grounds near Yellow Springs, Tuesday afternoon. The evening was spent in rowing on the lake and enjoying the pleasure advantages of the famous park. The following were present: Misses Lena Collins, Lottie Siegler, Eleanor Smith, Vera Andrew, Carrie Rife, Margaret Watt, Marie Garlough, Nellie Turnbull, Edna Townsley, Fern Ervin, Ethel Collins and Carrie Hutchison; Messrs. John Wilson, James Gray, Emerson Nisbet, Paul Tindall, Frank Orr, Frank Bull, George Siegler, Ralph Bull, J. N. Wolford, Frank

The assessors returns on births and deaths in the county during the last year, show that among the white population both in Xenia and in the entire county, the birth rate exceeds the death rate while with the colored people the reverse is true. The total number of births in the city was: white, male, 57, female 52; colored, male, 9, female, 11; in the entire county: white, male 175, female 183; colored 15 each. Total births 388. Deaths in Xenia, white 66; colored 47; in county, white 231, colored 62. Total deaths 293; excess of births over deaths, 95. Both the birth and death rate of female exceeded that of males.

NO EXTRA FEES.

The attorney general has decided that county commissioners are not entitled to compensation whatever aside from the salary fixed by the legislature recently. This cuts out all provisions for compensation for serving as annual boards of equalization or as turnpike commissioners and of mileage under old section 897.5 for ditch work. The flat salary of commissioners in Fayette county will be $938 yearly.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS MEET.

A meeting of the school directors this district was held Monday afternoon, at which time teachers were selected for the coming year. Mr. D. L. Crawford who has been teaching in district number one the past year was elected as township superintendent at a salary of $70 per month. This is the first township superintendent that the directors have elected for several years and in Mr. Crawford the board feels that he will be able to place the township schools on a more uniform basis. He is one of our best instructors and is, well deserving of the honor given him in the election. Mr. George Siegler was chosen as musical director for the second.

It is very probable that district number eight will be transferred to the Selma district in order that the schools can be centralized. The question is now in court.

The following teachers were elected in the different districts: 1, Mary Sterrett; 2, Effie Conley; 3, Dora Siegler; 4, Agnes Stormont; 5, Lulu Smith; 6, Sadie Iliffe; 7, Bell Winter.

NEVER MISSED A DAY.

On the 9th day of June, 1904, Raymond Fitzpatrick, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fitzpatrick, of near New Jasper, graduated from the Cedarville college. In this event there is nothing unusual, but the following will show the will and determination he had to secure an education:

In September 1898 he started to Cedarville college, taking a six-year course; and at that time his parents lived about six miles out of Cedarville on the Cedarville and Cetas town pike, he driving the entire distance every day. Then in the spring 1901 the family moved to a farm near New Jasper, making the distance about seven miles from Cedarville; he also driving every day, never missing a single day the whole six years, stopping neither for cold or hot, rain or shine, often starting in the morning before it was light when the thermometer was down to, or below zero. And as providence smiled on him he was never sick a day.

The last year he also taught in the college. The first term of the year he taught general history, and the last two terms he taught Latin. He also joined the foot ball team and played foot ball in the falls of 1902 and 1903. Thus you see he has not been idle. A careful estimate of a friend shows that altogether during the six years he has driven 15,210 miles. Who can beat this?—Gazette.

IMPROVED IN HEALTH

Mr. George Haines returned last Saturday evening from Phoenix, Arizona, where he has been for several months for the benefit of his health. Mr. Haines has returned considerably improved, and will remain here so long as the climate does not affect him. He expects to return to Arizona again this fall before the bad weather sets in. Of this country he gives glowing reports, in that it is a great agriculture section there being about 100,000 acres under cultivation at the present time. The government is erecting a $3,000,000 dam in the mountains for irrigation purposes, and when this is done thousands of acres of the finest soil will be ready for cultivation. Mr. Haines reports that only the valleys of California can equal this country. Two months of the year the atmosphere is exceedingly hot and dusty.

ROOSEVELT AND FAIRBANKS NOMINATED.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Thursday afternoon at Chicago Theodore Roosevelt was nominated for presidency at the Republican Convention by a unanimous vote. The nomination was made by Ex-Gov. Black, of New York, amid the wildest enthusiasm. The whole convention went wild at the mention of Roosevelt's name. Charles Warner Fairbanks, of Indiana but a native of Ohio, was nominated for the vice-presidency.

HEALTH

Don't think we could keep house without Theodor's Black-draught. We have used it in the family for over two years with the best of results. I have not had a doctor in the house for that length of time. It is a doctor in itself and always ready to make a person well and happy. — MRS. HALL, Jacksonville, Ill.

Because this great medicine relieves stomach pains, frees the constipated bowels and invigorates the torpid liver and weakened kidneys.

No Doctor

is necessary in the home where Theodor's Black-Draught is kept. Families living in the country, miles from any physician, have been kept in health for years with this medicine as their only doctor. Theodor's Black-Draught cures biliousness, dyspepsia, colds, chills and fever, bad blood, headaches, diarrhea, constipation, colic and almost every other ailment because it cleanses the bowels, liver and kidneys so nearly control the health.

THE GLOVED BURGLAR.

The plain and simple means of "getting round" the change work exposed of Southern Yards has at length been discovered. In evidence given in a case at Windsor recently it was made plain that the crookmen "made a haul of jewelry at Lady Mary Currie's some time ago and worn gloves all through the operation. The pursuits and pawns of goods examined by the official police showed no telltale traces of the presence of any well known thief, but saw a number of blurred marks.
So another detail is added to the already large outfit of the modern burglar, who will now carry his gloves along with his list shippers.
His keys, his drill, his saws, his cen-terbit, his glass cutter, his wrench, his dynamite, his lantern, his revolver, etc. It is a business that calls for some capital.—London News.

A Story of Queen Wilhelmina.

The visit of Wilhelmina, queen of Holland, to Italy recalls her life in Florence with her mother in her girlhood. They lived in a modest way, going out daily on foot. It is related that one day they were going along the Lung'Arno, when they were accosted by a beggar. The queen regent wanted to push on, fearing that her daughter might catch some fearful disease, but the little queen, having a will of her own, insisted on stopping. She questioned the man in broken Italian, believing herself quite unknown, and on proceeding gave him half a franc. He looked from the silver in his hand to her and then back again, and at last said, with an air of impudence: "So your subjects keep you as short as that! Poor queen!"

War Humor.

"War has its humorous side," said General Nelson A. Miles. "Though the humor is always grim."
"In one of my most perilous Indian campaigns I overheard a group of privates saying good night to one another on the eve of an engagement. These youths were in different regiments. They knew the coming fight would be a hot one. They knew it was probable enough that they would never see one another again."
"And so as they separated one of them said:
"Well, goodbye, boys. As the coons said when the dogs made after them, 'We'll all meet at the hatter's.'"

Our Literary Activity.

The annual statement of the copyright office of the library of congress shows that the copyright business for 1903 was the largest in any year in the history of the office. No less than 100,743 titles were received for registration, the total fees received amounting to $70,230.50. The number of articles deposited also exceeded the number of any previous year, totaling 180, 537. On the entries of the year there were 14,060 books and pamphlets, 4,568 booklets, leaflets, circulars and cards and 7,041 newspapers and magazines, and 7,041 speaks volumes for the literary activity of the country.

Tabloid Foods.

Every once in awhile one reads that the food of the future will be served in tabloids. A meal will be carried in the waistcoat pocket or in a shopping bag. This is nonsense.
Tabloids will preserve life for a certain short length of time. They are excellent to use in emergencies, on forced marches and when traveling.
But no one could live on them.
The entire digestive system would have to be altered, and almost every natural function would have to change. The imagination pauses before the new diseases that would appear if people ceased to chew.—New York Post.

The Locusts in Egypt.

Egypt is threatened with a plague of locusts, and the government has called out the army of forced laborers to combat the pest. Owing to the young locusts' habit of never turning back or aside when once started in a certain direction, it is possible, by digging trenches, sometimes miles in length, to entrap the invading hosts and destroy them.
That of course must be done before the locusts take to the wing. At that stage nothing can stop their ravages, and they sweep everything before them.

Hypnotism and Heart Beats.

According to recent investigations, it appears probable that hypnotism can stop the action of a person's heart and thus cause death.
A. Journef, a Frenchman, reports that he has increased and diminished the number of pulse beats at will and as far as he could venture with safety. It is said to be also proved that circulation is seriously affected, even if it is not quite certain that the heart can be silenced.

OIL

In Ohio and Indiana
Big Increase of Wells and Production in a Week.

Total Run of Oil from Both States in our Months Valued at $9,000,000.

Toledo, Ohio, May 8.—The record of completed wells with their initial output and the dry holes for the week past in the Trenton Rock oil fields of Ohio and Indiana, were 200 completed wells, 30 failures to find crude oil in paying quantities and a production of 4,484 barrels. In the Ohio field, Wood and Allen counties lead, while in Indiana, Grant and Delaware counties stand at the head.

The total runs from the wells of Ohio and Indiana, for the month of April were 1,902,001 barrels and the shipments for the same period were 1,951,315 barrels, a decline of 49,314 barrels in the stocks above ground.
The runs from Ohio were 1,137,414 barrels and the shipments 1,370,485 barrels. From Indiana, the runs were 764,587 barrels, and the shipments
740,830 barrels.

For four months the total run from the wells of both states were 7,202,798 barrels valued at $8,829,472.13. The shipments were 8,777,456 barrels valued at $10,787,805.59. The pipe lines of Indiana for four months paid to the producer a total of $3,406,440.
84 for 2,845,319 barrels of crude oil.

We have just as good a right to find this great source of wealth in Greene county as they did in other counties in Ohio and in other states.

Why Not Find It?

For fifteen years the Miami Powder
Co. has lighted an office at Goes Station with natural gas flowing from a well on the company's ground, in several places in this county, natural gas has been found when drilling for water wells and there are evidences of oil in many parts of the county.
About fifteen years ago oil was discovered in this county at a depth of 1200 feet and several barrels of crude oil were dipped out of the well, but at that time the people were only satisfied with gushers and the well was neither shot nor pumped. It is a well known fact that had the proper pumping machinery been applied to that well that it would have been a paying well, for the oil stood within a few feet of the surface, but because it did not gush several hundred feet above the surface, the people at that time, in that locality, wanted gas and not oil, the well was abandoned and allowed to fill with mud and water.
Sometime, somewhere, some company will find it in Greene county, and the people should encourage the Greene County Oil and Gas Company by leasing land and taking stock so that the work will commence at any early date. Not a few, but all the people, should take stock in this company.
The officers of this company are men well known to the people, are men who are interested in the county and are men who expect to continue to reside in the county and will give the stockholders a square deal from start to finish.

Success to this company means large sums of money to the owners of lands who lease, from royalties in the future, and great profit to the stockholders, and in cheap fuel and light a blessing to the people of the towns.
This company will drill the first well in the locality that offers the most inducements in stock and leases and the owners of lands to the east and between Cedarville and Jamestown, through W. L. Clemans, the leasing insurance man of Cedarville, have already leases about 5000 acres and the development of that territory will be a great blessing to Cedarville, Jamestown, Xenia and the whole county.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 8-ounce packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower will stop the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. For mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You can get this reliable remedy at all druggists. Price 25c and 75c.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like in- juries he cause them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Cham- berlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. If it is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money not to mention the inconvenience and suf- fering with such injuries' entail. For sale by Isaac Wisterman.

The Preacher's Evidence

Roland, Ill, June 20.—Diabetes has so long been looked upon as an incurable form of kidney disease that a cure cure for it must rank as one of the most valuable medical discoveries of the age. And every day brings forth fresh evidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure Diabetes. Important evidence in their favor is given by Rev. Thos. B. Norman, the well known Baptist minister here, Mr. Norman says:

"I had all the symptoms of a bad case of Diabetes and received so much benefit from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills that I cheerfully recommend them to anyone suffering from that dread disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure the worst form of Diabetes."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always Diabetes, one of the final stages of Kidney disease. All the earlier stages from backache to rheumatism are naturally much more easily cured by the same remedy.

VERY LONG MEALS.

The Solemn Dinner of an Old Time English Archbishop.

Dinner in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries was eaten at 11 o'clock and supper at 4 or 5. These were very long meals, as the following anecdote from the "Arte of Rhetorique," by Thomas Wilson, will show:

"An Italian, having a suit here in England to the archbishop of York that then was and coming to York when one of the prebendaries there broke his bread, as they term it, and thereupon made a solemn, long dinner, the which perhaps began at 11 and continued well nigh till 4 in the afternoon, at which dinner this bishop was. It fortuned that as they were set the Italian knocked at the gate, unto whom the porter, perceiving his errand, answered that my lord bishop was at dinner."

"The Italian departed and returned between 12 and 1. The porter answered they were yet at dinner. He came again at 2 of the clock. The porter told him they had not half dined. He came at 3 o'clock, unto whom the porter, in a heat, answered never a word, but churlishly did shut the gate upon him. Whereupon others told the Italian that there was no speaking with my lord almost all that day for the solemn dinner's sake."

"The Italian, wondering much at such a long sitting and greatly grieved because he could not then speak with the archbishop's grace, departed straight toward London and, leaving the dispatch of his matters with a friend of his, took his journey toward Italy. Three years after it happened that an Englishman came to Rome, with whom this Italian by chance falling acquainted asked him if he knew the archbishop of York. The Englishman said he knew him right well. I pray you tell me," quoth the Italian, "hath that archbishop yet dined?"

"ALL OVER THE HOUSE."

Monograms the Correct Thing in Marking Fine Linen.

While the simple initial is perfectly correct, the monogram is the more elegant method of marking linen. The same initial or monogram should be used on all household linen.

French embroidery is the most approved form of decoration, and this is done in fine pure white mercerized cotton or linen.

The letters on sheets, pillow cases and tablecloths are usually three inches in height; for towels and dinner napkins two or two and one-half inches in height, and one or one and one-half inches in height for smaller napkins.

Sheets are stamped exactly in the middle of the top end, about two or three inches from the hem, with the top of the letter toward the middle of the sheet, so that the letter reads correctly when the sheet is turned back. Pillow cases are marked in the same manner, with letters two inches above the hem, the lower end of letters nearest the hem. The letters on towels should be in the same relative position; except when the end is ornamented with drawn work. Then of course the embroidery should be above it, regardless of measurements. Pillow shams are marked directly in the center. On the tablecloths place the letters top upward, either bias or straight with the corner and eight inches from the edge; on napkins in the same way, with letters two and one-half inches from the edge.

Must Marry in Turn.

Judge Jonathan Dixon of the supreme court of New Jersey has eight handsome daughters and one son more or less so. Mrs. Dixon will not let the girls marry out of their regular turn. The first, second and third in the order of birth have found worthy husbands, and the stern old jurist gives to each a government bond of $10,000 as a marriage portion. The judge has never been interviewed by a newspaper man.

ABSENT TREATMENT.

The Mother, a Hundred Miles Away, Knew What Baby Needed.

A young mother left her baby with her obliging mother-in-law one night in order to attend the wedding of a relative who lived in a town about a hundred miles distant. The young woman, apparently free from all family cares, spent an enjoyable evening, but just as the newly wedded couple were preparing to depart on the midnight train an expression of acute anxiety flashed across the young mother's countenance.

"Oh, George!" she exclaimed, clutching her husband's arm. "There was one thing that I forgot to tell your mother to do for the baby, and he'll never go to sleep without it. You must go right out and send her a telegram."

"Nonsense!" said George. "This isn't the first baby she's taken care of."

"But, George, she'll never think of doing just the right thing, and the baby is so perfectly trained that he won't accept any substitute. I know he's crying hard at this very minute."

"He was right. A hundred miles away a weary grandmother was at her wits' end because she could think of nothing that would pacify a wailing infant who was most wretchedly sleepy, yet utterly unable to go to sleep. She was pacing wearily back and forth in the nursery to the accompaniment of her grandson's howls when the doorbell rang and her daughter-in-law's telegram arrived. Tearing it open, the tired, perplexed grandmother read: "Lay baby on his stomach in the crib."

Two minutes later the baby, adjusted to his liking, was sound asleep.—Leslie's Monthly.

Her Developing Process.

A small Brooklyn maid, aged five years, developed a propensity for climbing a tree near her home, the ascent being accomplished successfully. But once upon there she stuck, shouting lustily for help until rescued by one of her big brothers. Two or three times this experience was repeated, until the patience of her rescuers was exhausted, and her mother was obliged to threaten punishment if the feat was not discontinued. "But, mamma," remonstrated the child earnestly, "I really have to do it!" "You have to do it?" repeated her mother, in surprise. "Why do you have to do it?" "Because," was the answer, delivered with much dignity, "I belong to an athletic association, and I do that to develop my muscles!"—Boston Transcript.

De Quincey's Books.

Burton in his "Book Hunter" gives an amusing account of De Quincey's famous collection of books. "Some legend there is of a book collector having forced his way into the Caucas den and there seen a sort of rubble inner wall of volumes, with their edges outward, while others, bound and unbound, the plebeian sheepskin and the aristocratic Russian, were squeezed into certain tubs drawn from the washing establishment of a confiding landlady."

A Serious Question.

Mr. Sampson (passionately) — I love you devotedly, Miss Chumley, but my pecuniary affairs have prevented my making a declaration until now. But I have put enough away now to feel justified in asking you to become my wife.

Miss Chumley (hesitating, but sweetly)—I confess that I am not wholly indifferent to you, but—

"But what, dear?"

"Would you mind telling me how much you have put away?"

Roland, Ill, June 20.—Diabetes has so long been looked upon as an incurable form of kidney disease that a cure for it must rank as one of the most valuable medical discoveries of the age.

"I had all the symptoms of a bad case of Diabetes and received so much benefit from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills that I cheerfully recommend them to anyone suffering from that dread disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure the worst form of Diabetes."

VERY LONG MEALS.

The Solemn Dinner of an Old Time English Archbishop.

Dinner in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries was eaten at 11 o'clock and supper at 4 or 5. These were very long meals, as the following anecdote from the "Arte et Rhetorice" by Thomas Wilson, will show:

"An Italian, having a suit here, England to the archbishop of York that then was and coming to York when one of the prebendaries there broke his bread, as they term it, and thereupon made a solemn, long dinner, the which perhaps began at 11 and continued well nigh till 4 in the afternoon, at which dinner this bishop was. It happened that as they were set the Italian knocked at the gate, unto whom the porter, perceiving his errand, answered that my lord bishop was at dinner."

"The Italian departed and returned between 12 and 1. The porter answered they were yet at dinner. He came again at 2 of the clock. The porter told him they had not half dined. He came at 3 o'clock, unto whom the porter, in a heat, answered never a word, but churlishly did shut the gate upon him. Whereupon others told the Italian that there was no speaking with my lord almost all that day for the solemn dinner's sake."

"The Italian, wondering much at such a long sitting and so greatly grieved because he could not then speak with the archbishop's grace, departed straight toward London, and leaving the dispatch of his matters with a friend of his, took his journey toward Italy. Three years after it happened that an Englishman by chance falling acquainted, asked him if he knew the archbishop of York. The Englishman said he knew him right well. 'I pray you tell me,' quoth the Italian, 'hath that archbishop yet dined?'"

Monograms the Correct Thing in Marking Fine Linen.

While the simple initial is perfectly correct, the monogram is the more elegant method of marking linen. The same initial or monogram should be used on all household linen.

French embroidery is the most approved form of decoration, and this is done in fine pure white mercerized cotton or linen.

The letters on sheets, pillow cases and tablecloths are usually three inches in height; for towels and dinner napkins two or two and one-half inches in height, and one or one and one-half inches in height for smaller napkins.

Sheets are stamped exactly in the middle of the top end, about two or three inches from the hem, with the top of the letter toward the middle of the sheet, so that the letter reads correctly when the sheet is turned back. Pillow cases are marked in the same manner, with letters two inches above the hem, the lower end of letters nearest the hem. The letters on towels should be in the same relative position, except when the end is ornamented with drawn work. Then of course the embroidery should be above it, regardless of measurements. Pillow shams are marked directly in the center. On the tablecloths place the letters toward the corner and eight inches from the edge; on napkins in the same way, with letters two and one-half inches from the edge.

Must Marry in Turn.

Judge Jonathan Dixon of the supreme court of New Jersey has eight handsome daughters and one son more or less so. Mrs. Dixon will not let the girls marry out of their regular turn. The first, second and third in the order of birth have found worthy husbands, and the stern old jurist gives to each a government bond of $10,000 as a marriage portion. The judge has never been interviewed by a newspaper man.

ABSENT TREATMENT.

The Mother, a Hundred Miles Away, Knew What Baby Needed.

A young mother left her baby with her obliging mother-in-law one night in order to attend the wedding of a relative who lived in a town about a hundred miles distant. The young woman, apparently free from all family cares, spent an enjoyable evening, but just as the newly wedded couple were preparing to depart on the midnight train an expression of acute anxiety flashed across the young mother's countenance.

"Oh, George!" she exclaimed, clutching her husband's arm. "There was one thing that I forgot to tell your mother to do for the baby, and he'll never go to sleep without it. You must go right out and send her a telegram."

"Nonsense!" said George. "This isn't the first baby she's taken care of."

She was right. A hundred miles away a weary grandmother was at her wits' end because she could think of nothing that would pacify a wailing infant who was most unable to go to sleep. She was pacing wearily back and forth in the nursery to the accompaniment of her grandson's howls when the doorbell rang and her daughter-in-law's telegram arrived. Tearing it open, the tired, perplexed grandmother read: "Lay baby on his stomach in the crib."

Two minutes later the baby, adjusted to his liking, was sound asleep.—Leslie's Monthly.

Her Developing Process.

A small Brooklyn maid, aged five years, developed a propensity for climbing a tree near her home, the ascent being accomplished successfully. But once up there she stuck, shouting lustily for help until rescued by one of her big brothers. Two or three times this experience was repeated, until the patience of her rescuers was exhausted, and her mother was obliged to threaten punishment if the feat was not discontinued. "But, mamma," remonstrated the child earnestly, "I really have to do it!" "You have to do it?" repeated her mother, in surprise. "Why do you have to do it?" "Because," was the answer, delivered with much dignity, "I belong to an athletic association, and I do that to develop my muscles!"—Boston Transcript.

De Quincey's Books.

Burton in his "Book Hunter" gives an amusing account of De Quincey's famous collection of books. "Some legend there is of a book collector having forced his way into the Caesars den and there seen a sort of rubble inner wall of volumes, with their edges outward, while others, bound and unbound, the plebeian sheepskin and the aristocratic Russian, were squeezed into certain tubs drawn from the washing establishment of a confiding landlady."

A Serious Question.

Mr. Sampson (passionately) — I love you devotedly, Miss Chumley, but my pecuniary affairs have prevented my making a declaration until now. But I have put enough away now to feel justified in asking you to become my wife.

Miss Chumley (hesitating, but sweetly) — I confess that I am not wholly indifferent to you, but—

"But what, dear?"

"Would you mind telling me how much you have put away?"
